UNITED STATES IN MINIATURE. AT THE CLIMAX.

149 Fulton-street and 1] Ann-street.

Thus says the Editor of the Planet:—

"FREE READING ROOM.—Without doubt one of the best and one of the most convenient places in the city to gather the news of the day is at the Chema Eating House, No. 13 Ann-street, running through to Fulton street. At this well conducted and popular establishment there are twenty-six marble tables, with a leading journal on each table, representing every State in the Union; thus citizens and strangers have the opportunity of taking their coffee, &c. and reading the latest papers from all parts of the country on the same table. It strikes us that this arrangement is superior to anything ever attempted in this city, and we have no doubt will prove a great feature in this extensively patronized house of refreshment. Under the management of its gentlemanty propristor, the Climax, we are pleased to learn, is rapidly increasing in patronize and popular favor, and we doubt not will continue to receive its full share of public support. 127 Office of the London and American Splendid Relyday Presents—The most acceptatic and valuable present you can effer to a friend is one of "Barry's Ventitating Wigs, or Scalps." The material, workmanchip, beauty of finish, and elegance of style, cannot be equalled; in short, they are the ne plus ultra of Wig-making. Barry's Wigs have received the chantage of whatever experience could suggest, and genus could execute. They are formed to the head as the statural hair grows, covering no more of the brain than one's own Hair does. They are formed to the head as the statural hair grows, covering no more of the brain than the search of the statural hair does. They are strong without being heavy, warm without being thick, and elastic sithout being loose. They give the delightful feeling of fitting the Head with the case of a silk exp. having acuther unseccessary weight nor disagreeable press re, such are the mesumable advantages of Barry's Wigs and Scalps. IT A Letter from Dr. Lardner on the SURICT OF LIGHT.

New-York, Oct. 20. 1841.—At the desire of Mr. James C. Bookea, No. 465 Broadway, I have examined a Patent Lamp sold by him. and submitted it to experimental trial by the ir unal Photometic methods and have found that vien the barner acts with its greatest power the light yielded is equal to about twenty one sperm candles of ordinary quality. After iny this illumination the consemption of Forter's Commend Oil proceeds at the rate of the light part of a pint per hour, which, at seventy-five cises for gallon, gives a cost of 11-6 cent per hour. In the practical use of these Lamps it will not be adminable to push them to their maximum power of illumination. If it be assured that they are adjusted to give a state qual to two thirds of their greatest illumination, the saving as compared with an equal quantity of light without from sperm condies would be about fourteen harden due from the path conditions would be about fourteen harden proper to observe, also, that the light afforded by these Lamps is remarkable for its heavings and unitarity, and for the presences of its color, which is entire to fee from the path him when traders gas as usually manifectured, object journals. The condustible rise, rises when its from the reservoir to the barner that the famp masses all the advantages of Carcel's principle with aut is complexity or its habitate to get out of order.
